

JANE TIERNEY BALVIN

Grandfather James McGuire	County Meade
Grandmother Bridgit McGuire	County Sligo
Grandfather Bernard Tierney	County Tipperary
Grandmother Jane Tierney	Was born in America (place unknown)

Mother Mary Ann McGuire Tierney was born in Middlesex County, Town of Woodbridge, New Jersey, March 6, 1855.

Father, Owen Tierney, was born at Prairie Du Chien, Wisconsin in an army barracks that was no longer used by the government. Date was November 14, 1858.

Bridget McGuire's maiden name was McDonough and her mother's maiden name was McGrath. Jane Tierney's maiden name was McMahan. Her first husband's name was Kelly. He was drowned. They had one son, James. Children of her second marriage were Owen, Mary Catherine, Bernard, Thomas, and Ellen. Thomas and Ellen died very young. (There may have been others.)

Bridgit and James McGuire had seven children, Thomas, Mary Ann, Ellen, Philip, Bernard, Catherine, and Etta. He died in 1864. Etta was born after his death. Bridget later married Lawrence Holton. They had four sons, James Edward, Francis and John. James and Edward married but neither had children. Francis died when he was a small child as did Thomas McGuire.

Joseph J. Balvin and Jane Tierney
1891-Dec. 6, 1978 1894-

Joseph J. Balvin was born in Kingsley, Iowa on June 15, 1891 to John Balvin and Anna Skala (both from Czechoslovakia). Joseph was one of a family of ten children; four brothers, Frank, John, Emil and Edward and five sisters; Mary, Anna, Emma (Weisser), Rose (Wordenhoff) and Christine (?)

Joe was raised on the farm six miles south of Tyndall where he farmed with his father. Joe attended Daisy Valley Grade School for an uncertain period of time (probably about 3 years).

Joe married Minnie Jones, the date and place are unavailable. They were later divorced, year unknown.

On November 10, 1920 Joe was married to Jane Tierney by Father Dooley at St. Leo's Catholic Church in Tyndall, South Dakota.

Jane was born on November 2, 1894 to Owen Tierney and Mary Ann McGuire in Chicago, Illinois. Her father was born in Prairie Du Chein, Wisconsin and her mother in Middle Sex County, New Jersey.

Jane attended thirteen years of school in Camp Douglas, Wisconsin and Springfield Normal School in Springfield, South Dakota. She then taught school in a country school near Tyndall. In 1955(?) she returned to Springfield College and renewed her certificate and taught several more years.

Janes's sisters are Catherine (Evers) Schmoll, Mary Ann (Raabe), and Etta Gertrude and her brothers are Owen Francis and James Bernard.

Joe came to Tyndall in 1902 and Jane came here in 1914.

Evelyn and Walter were married on May 1, 1937 and lived in Hull, Iowa where they both worked in Walter's mother's grocery store. In January, 1942 they moved to San Francisco, which was right after World War II had started. Walter then worked at Fort Mason in Civil Service. After the war Walter was transferred to Naval Air Station in Alameda, California so they moved. They bought their first home and later purchased a larger home closer to Christian school where their children attended school.

In 1955 Evelyn began working as a meat wrapper and continued for 20 years. Walter passed away February 9, 1963. Evelyn remarried August 9, 1972 to Charles J. Jackson and they are
